

HERE AND THERE.

On last Friday afternoon Senator Williams of California was summoned before the Grand and was asked the question:

"Did you receive any money for your vote on Senate Bill No. 6."

Williams said: "I decline to answer, on the ground that I refuse to be made a witness against myself."

This is all they could get out of the witness; whereupon Jeremiah Lynch, Chairman of the Committee on Legislative Abuses appear in Judge Wallace's court and presented an affidavit setting forth the facts of Williams' contumacy, as given above, on which ground he asked that the obstinate legislator be cited to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Judge Wallace immediately granted the application, and at request of District Attorney Barnes, directed that a bench warrant be issued for Williams' arrest.

A bench warrant was also issued for another legislator who refused to testify against himself, but he fled the State before it was served.

But in Ormsby county things are differently managed. When John Moore, the witness who swore out the warrant against Davis, was asked, "Did you receive money for withdrawing the complaint?" he replied:

"I would rather not answer that question."

Another juror asked, "Who gave you the money?"

"I would rather not answer."

The witness was excused. The paying of the money to the witness was a felony under the Statutes of the States.

Under the Statutes of Nevada, a witness can refuse to answer a question which incriminates himself, and the Grand Jury can go no further with that witness.

It can however meet and compel the District Attorney to explain why he dismissed the complaint in the face of such overwhelming, and as the Jury said over their signatures, such "damnable evidence."

Several weeks ago the APPEAL notified Mr. Summerfield that it was charged that he had, prior to his assuming the responsibilities of the District Attorneyship, been engaged as attorney for the defendant. The use of the APPEAL columns were given him to deny this charge, but he has never done so.

It is now a matter of common talk on the street, that he sent a dispatch to Davis in Los Angeles notifying him of his indictment.

If this is not correct the columns of the APPEAL are open. Sheriff Bottsford in an interview with the APPEAL said:

"I went to the telegraph office to telegraph to Los Angeles as soon as I knew of the indictment but the other side got there first." If Mr. Summerfield has been acting in a double capacity, that of attorney for the accused and District Attorney at the same time and dismissed the indictment because of fees from the other side, or fear of it, he has but one course to pursue—either to explain his action to the citizens of Ormsby or resign his office.

A man who cannot do his duty as an official where his friends are involved, ought to give up his office at once.

Almost a Toy Railroad.

So far as known, the smallest railroad in the world is that from Ravenglass to Boot, in Cumberland, England. It is like a large toy. The gauge is three feet and the engine is an absurd little thing. The carriages are miniature cages. As to the stations they resemble double bathing boxes more than anything else. The railway officials are easily summed up; the engineer is also fireman, conductor and baggage man. Being late for a train is not a serious disaster, since any active person can overtake it, and it will stop to pick up passengers anywhere.
